

James Wallace Barn
8230 Brandywine Road
Cuyahoga Valley National Recreation Area
Northfield Center vicinity
Summit County
Ohio

HABS No. OH-2306-A

HABS
OHIO
77-NORCE
1A-

PHOTOGRAPHS

WRITTEN HISTORICAL AND DESCRIPTIVE DATA

Historic American Buildings Survey
National Park Service
Department of the Interior
Washington DC 20013-7127

HABS
OHIO,
77-NORCEY,
1A-

HISTORIC AMERICAN BUILDINGS SURVEY

JAMES WALLACE BARN

HABS No. OH-2306-A

Location: 8230 Brandywine Road, Cuyahoga Valley National Recreation Area, Northfield Center vicinity, Summit County, Ohio.

Significance: The James Wallace Barn is part of a significant complex of structures representing the entrepreneurial contributions of the Wallace family in the Cuyahoga Valley.

Description: Standing approximately 20 feet west of the Wallace house, the two-story barn measures 16' x 32' and stands on a sandstone foundation. The walls are made of 4"-wide poplar clapboard siding, which covers a frame constructed of 8" x 8" hand-hewn oak beams. The gable roof is covered with sawn wood shingles which are nailed on to 4" x 4" hand-hewn oak rafters.

History: The barn was constructed circa 1850.

Source: Hamilton, Chester V. Wallace Farm. National Register of Historic Places nomination form. 1985.

Historian: Holly K. Chamberlain, HABS, May, 1988